

Fruit Grower- Black & Blueberry

November 13, 2018

6 - 9 p.m.

Lorain County Extension Office

42110 Russia Rd

Elyria, OH 44035

Cost $20 *

This is the fourth post-season meeting for commercial black and blueberry growers in the region. Take some time in the evening to network with other growers--large and small, experienced and new. The group represents growers in 4 counties. If you are currently growing, or considering growing blueberries or blackberries this meeting is for you. It, however, is not intended for hobby or home-growers.

Presenters:

Gary Gao, Associate Professor, OSU South Centers, Small Fruit Specialist-
Update of Blueberry, Blackberry & Raspberry Research Projects at OSU South Centers

Timothy J Malinich, Assistant Professor, OSU Extension of Erie County-
Planning a Weed Control Program

Ann Chanon, OSU Extension of Lorain County-
Selecting pesticides; Modes of action

Mike O'Grady, Baumhart Berry Farm-
More of a Good Thing; Propagating Your Own Blueberries

The evening will conclude with a Grower Post Season Roundtable

Light refreshments will be served. Seating is limited, register early.
Available Credit: 1 hr. private PAT, ½ Core and ½ fruit and vegetable (category 3)
*An extra $5 fee will be charged for credit
